NEVER ENDING THERMAL

A film by SEAN WHITE

Presented by Victoria director Sean White! Never Ending Thermal is the celebration of the paragliding lifestyle as experienced by Sean and two expert Venezuelan buddies. Follow them on a journey of a lifetime flying with top pilots at spectacular locations around the world. The film won the top award at the International Free Flight Film Festival in France and is a dazzling followup to INTO THE THUNDER DRAGON, Sean's amazing film about unicycling adventure in Bhutan. <http://www.neverendingthermal.com>

WILBY WONDERFUL

Just a day or so in the life of Wilby, a little Canadian town. Nothing much happens - just small town stuff like selling real estate, lust, growing up, life and death. 14A adult language and situations
Daniel MacIvor is a hero of mine as actor in the wonderful series TWITCH CITY and for writing the play and then screenplay for a Canadian jewel, the 2002 feature film, MARION BRIDGE. You must rent and watch Marion Bridge before you join us for the telephone question and answer session we'll have with Daniel after we watch WILBY WONDERFUL. He's another of our hard working men of many hats; actor, writer, director on Canadian stage and screen. <http://www.wilbywonderful.com>

Feb 7, 2003 at Radio City Music Hall many of the greatest performers of several generations met to pay tribute to their common heritage and passion - The Blues. It was a feast to the eye and ear, beautifully presented in a context of interviews that piece the history together. Odetta to Natalie Cole, BB King to Buddy Guy. Another in our year of great music on film at MM.

A 1977 classic Canadian film, newly reissued on DVD. Craig Russell, the great drag impersonator does fabulous routines as Ethel Merman, Liza Minelli, Streisand, Channing, Mae West and more, but the film holds together with a sweet unusual love story between him and a young woman who has schizophrenia who moves in with him after escaping a psych hospital. Turns out it was not just a sweet plot to showcase Russell's act but based on a short story written by such a young woman who lived with him for a year! R for adult content and language

FIRE THE BOSS.

In suburban Buenos Aires, thirty unemployed auto-parts workers walk into their idle factory, roll out sleeping mats and refuse to leave. All they want is to re-start the silent machines. But this simple act - the take - has the power to turn the globalization debate on its head. Armed only with slingshots and an abiding faith in shop-floor democracy, the workers face off against the bosses, bankers and a whole system that sees their beloved factories as nothing more than scrap metal for sale. With The Take, director Avi Lewis, one of Canada's most outspoken journalists, and writer Naomi Klein, author of the international bestseller No Logo, champion a radical economic manifesto for the 21st century.

While heading for college, Bill and Stan are arrested in Alabama when circumstances point to them as having murdered a convenience store clerk. Unable to afford an attorney, they turn to Bill's cousin Vinny, a brash New Yorker who took six tries to pass his bar exam. Worse, until now he's only taken personal injury cases, none of which have gone to trial. Dragging along his even more abrasive fiancée Mona Lisa Vito, Vinny will have to straighten up fast, and keep out of jail himself, if he's going to win the case. R for language.
