SHAMELESS - The Art Of Disability

Victoria Premiere with filmmaker and guests.
A very special collaboration with NFB and Open Cinema (showing there Tues 21st - <http://www.opencinema.ca/>)

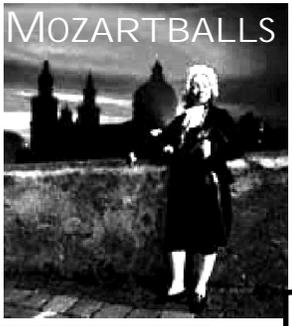

Bonnie Klein's first feature film since her life was turned upside-down by a stroke in 1987. She entered a whole new world of disability, recovery, and the realization that artistic expression can be a big factor in that recovery and in finding ones self again.

In this film and with four comrades, all accomplished and inspiring in their own lives, she explores that territory. I'm particularly pleased that the recovery movement and this film is inclusive of folks who have invisible mental illness and disability challenges. 71min Pg

A series of 8 short comedy operas featuring a Who's Who of Canadian actors -- Paul Gross, Colm Feore, Colin Machirie, Leah Pinsent, Cathy Jones, Mark McKinney among others -- lip-synching their way through the melodie madness.

And a timely and light-hearted exploration of the composer born 250 years ago and people who feel his presence, some a little too intensely today. (The "balls" are a chocolate confection.)

Both from Larry Weinstein and Rhombus Media who've brought us Beethoven's Hair & Ravel's Brain (why not then Mozartballs?) and the brilliant Stormy Weather. 60 + 52min Pg

Provocative title, eh?! It's about a guy w obsessive/compulsive disorder, with a side of Tourettes syndrome. A Sundance selection, British film.

It's gripping portrayal of a guy figuring out his problems. As his marriage and job fall apart he hooks up with a support group who help him to realize what he has and companions who help him work through it. Share the journey. Brilliant ensemble acting and a fascinating story.

We'll talk about it with special guest Andrew Bailey, who performed his play, Scrupulosity, last winter at MM. 95min R

Garrison Keillor's old fashioned, folksy radio show is facing it's closing curtain - but this one's a doozie! With a typically rich Robert Altman ensemble, thoroughly into their roles; Meryl Streep and Lily Tomlin as sweet songstresses, Woody Harrelson and John C. Reilly as singing cowboys, Dusty and Lefty, and a whole bunch of backstage business, there's lots of fun for everyone. PG 13 105min

Plus LYNN & HARRIET Lynn decides she needs to be in tune with her food. Harriet is her pig. Friends of both of them are anxious about the outcome... by NFLD filmmaker Linda Fitzpatrick 15min

Here's second in a series of fascinating looks at the people who shape our man made landscape (MY ARCHITECT was the first). This feature doc was made by a legendary director of narrative films who knew little about documentary work but is a friend of this builder of astounding forms. Gehry's buildings are the kind of things you can design with bendy plastic and scissors but are astounding as gigantic, impossible structures in cityscapes - like the EMP Building in Seattle. See the gallery of Gehry's work linked from our site. PG 13 83min

Good fun for on whole family on Boxing Day. The Over The Hedge crew get a work out in their first animated movie when RJ the raccoon has to quickly replace his bear buddy's junk food stash before the full moon. Lucky (or maybe not) there are great pickings in the urban sprall just over the... you-know-what. The naturally indignant human residents have issues with vermin looting their stuff and call in an exterminator extraordinaire. Stunning computer animation, lots of action, and a few moral high points visited too G approx 90min
